Web Development reflection

- 1) The purpose of this webpage is for people to know a little about myself, and the different things that I enjoy doing.
- 2) The target audience is teens and adults who don't know much about me.
- 3) To complete this project, I used html. One of the codes was ` `, to make brakes in the sentences.
- 4) The most challenging part about this project is defiantly learning the html codes. If you don't get the code exactly correct, the computer will read it incorrectly and will not work.
- 5) I give myself a 4 on a scale f 1-5 because I worked hard to learn the codes since I have never done this before. I think I could have made it a bit more fancy if I knew more codes.
- 6) If I could work more on this project, I would defiantly change the color of the font if there was possible.
- 7) If my webpage was posted on the web I think teenagers would be the people who would be interested in my page.
- 8) On the web relationships can be formed through email. People can talk through chat and get to know each other forming some sort of relationship. You can also strengthen old relationships by chatting and emailing on the web as well because your learning more about the person causing you relationship to strengthen

My Past

I was born in Framingham Massachusetts. When I was two years old my family moved to California and we lived there till I was ten. In 2000 we moved back to Boston Massachusetts and have been living here ever since. My parents have definetly influenced me, I think of it as if Iam a reflection of them.

Things I like

I like learning new things, the smell of fresh cut grass and lavender candles, going on the computer, short school days, reading good books,and hanging out with my friends.

Things I dont like

I dont like Brownies, football, disrespectfull people, long school days, white chocolate, and that feeling you get after you finish reading a book that you really didn't enjoy.

My future

At TechBoston Academy I hope to continue to get good grades this year, to start preparing myself for the next three years, where I plan on getting all A's. After I graduate from TechBoston Academy plan on going to a good college with a full scholar ship and then go on to become a plastic surgon. I then plan on getting a nice house and car so i can live comfortably, then have children if I choose to.
